

JANUARY 18, 2010

Nothing says school spirit like a pair of boots

There are a lot of ways to show school spirit. And, at the Stock Show, you can do it with your boots.

The Luskey's/Ryon's Western Stores booth in the Stock Show's main exhibits hall is offering footgear that proudly displays the wearer's allegiance to either TCU or Texas Tech University.

The boots, which are available in a variety of hides and styles, feature tops that are emblazoned with the school logo. The Nocona brand boots range in price from $269 to $519, depending on the hide chosen.

"We sold a ton of [the TCU boots] before the show," said salesperson Pam Merideth. "It was incredible before the bowl game."

- Punch Shaw

Posted at 01:29 PM | Permalink